

HOUSE OF GENEVIÈVE

A GUIDE TO TIMELESS WEDDING STATIONERY

details...

We kindly ask that you arrive to be seated by 11.30am for the ceremony to begin promptly at 12pm.

We would love for guests to wear smart attire in pastel colours.

THE DAY

Following the ceremony there will be a drinks reception in the beautiful gardens whilst photographs are taken. This will be followed by a wedding dinner at 3pm.

There will be a short break after the toasts for some time to relax and mingle.

We will then start the evening party at 7pm, with our exit at 11pm.

PLEASE NOTE THE BAR WILL CLOSE AT 11.30PM.

gifts

All we ask is for your presence on our wedding day.
To drink, eat and dance the night away.
But if you insist and feel the need,
A donation towards our chosen charity would be very kind indeed.

The Invitation

The heart of your suite, introducing your wedding with all the essential details while setting the tone for the celebration ahead.

RSVP Card

A simple way for guests to confirm their attendance, with space for dietary requirements or any additional information you may need.

Details Card

Perfect for sharing practical information such as accommodation, transport, dress code or details your guests should know before the day.

Wedding Website

A beautifully simple way to direct guests to your wedding website and find additional information, RSVP online or browse your gift list.

Envelope

The first impression begins before the invitation is even opened. Beautiful paper, elegant addressing and carefully chosen finishes make every envelope feel part of the experience.

Bringing It All Together

Every invitation suite is unique. From carefully selected papers and elegant typography to thoughtful finishing touches, each piece is designed to feel harmonious, personal and unmistakably yours.

V

Materials & Craftsmanship

“The beauty of bespoke stationery lies not only in its design, but in the materials chosen to bring it to life.”

Every invitation begins with thoughtful craftsmanship. From beautifully textured papers to elegant print finishes, each detail is carefully selected to create a stationery collection that feels as beautiful in your hands as it looks on paper.

Together, we'll choose the materials that best reflect your celebration, ensuring every element feels timeless, refined and uniquely yours.

Paper

The foundation of every invitation suite.

Whether you prefer the crisp elegance of smooth cardstock, the character of textured paper or the soft luxury of handmade cotton, the choice of paper shapes the look and feel of your stationery from the very first touch.

Printing

The print finish brings your design to life.

From beautifully crisp digital printing to luxurious foil and timeless letterpress, each technique offers its own distinctive character, allowing your stationery to feel perfectly suited to your celebration.

Finishing Details

It's often the smallest details that leave the greatest impression.

Silk ribbon, wax seals, vellum wraps, envelope liners and bespoke monograms add texture, depth and personality, transforming your invitation suite into something truly memorable.

Crafted with Care

Every House of Geneviève collection is thoughtfully assembled with care and attention to detail.

From the first design concept to the final ribbon, every piece is created with the intention of becoming not just an invitation, but a treasured keepsake of your wedding day.

VI

Wedding Day Stationery

“Beautifully considered details that bring your celebration together.”

Your stationery doesn't end with the invitation.

From the moment your guests arrive to the final farewell, thoughtfully designed stationery helps guide the day while complementing your venue, tablescapes and styling. Designed as an extension of your invitation suite, every piece works together to create a celebration that feels seamless, elegant and unmistakably yours.

Welcome Your Guests

Create a beautiful first impression with stationery that greets and guides your guests from the moment they arrive.

Including:

- Welcome Signs
- Order of Service
- Reserved Seating
- Order of the Day Signage

Style Your Reception

Beautifully designed pieces that complete your tablescape while guiding guests throughout the celebration, becoming part of your overall tablescape while ensuring guests feel comfortably guided throughout the celebration.

Including:

- Seating Plans
- Table Numbers or Names
- Menus
- Place Cards
- Bar & Signature Cocktail Signs

The Finishing Details

Often, it's the smallest touches that become the most memorable. Personalised details bring warmth, personality and a sense of occasion to every celebration.

Including:

- Wedding Newspapers
- Paddle Fans
- Guest Book Signs
- Favour Tags
- Vow Books
- Thank You Cards

A Collection Designed to Flow

One of the greatest advantages of bespoke stationery is the continuity it creates throughout your wedding.

From your first Save the Date to your final thank you card, every piece is thoughtfully designed to feel part of one beautifully considered collection—creating a celebration that's elegant, cohesive and uniquely yours.

VII Questions Answered

When should we begin?

I recommend enquiring around six to nine months before your wedding to allow plenty of time for consultation, design and production. If you're working to a shorter timeline, I'd still love to hear from you.

How long does the design process take?

Most bespoke collections are completed within 4–8 weeks from enquiry to delivery, depending on the scope of your collection and any refinements along the way.

Can we request changes to our design?

Absolutely. You'll have the opportunity to review your artwork and request refinements before giving final approval. Your stationery won't be printed until you're completely happy.

Do you design wedding day stationery too?

Yes. From welcome signs and seating plans to menus, place cards, vow books and thank you cards, every piece is designed to complement your invitation suite beautifully.

Do you ship internationally?

Yes. I work with couples throughout the UK and internationally, with all orders carefully packaged and sent using fully tracked delivery services.

What happens next?

Simply complete the enquiry form and I'll be in touch to arrange your complimentary consultation. From there, we'll begin creating a stationery collection that's thoughtfully designed around your celebration.

Have another question?

I'd be delighted to answer it during your complimentary consultation.

VIII Begin your Journey

“Every beautiful celebration begins with a story.”

When you're ready, I'd be delighted to create a stationery collection that reflects yours.
